SLATE MILLER
AS PRESIDENT
TOWN COUNCIL

Six New Members
Take Seats At Reorganization This Evening.

POLICE POSTS
ARE IN DOUBT

With the balance of power in the hands of six incoming members, council will hold its re-organization meeting at the engine house at 8 o'clock this evening.

Whether or not the six new members have caucused and paved the way for the re-organization meeting could not be definitely learned, although it is understood the new councilmen were scheduled to have a secret session last Friday evening.

With the six incoming councilmen, D. C. Stallsmith, Emory C.
Williams, C. W. Epley, J. B. Wineman, John E. Newman and C. Ray Rupp, is aligned William G. Weaver, of the first ward, who was appointed late last year to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Wimbert B. Neely.

Miller President

Several of the incoming councilmen have expressed a desire to have William A. Miller, oldest in service of the hold-over members, as president of the re-organized council, succeeding P. C. Stock, who served as councilman for eight years. A. R. Levan, of the third ward, is another hold-over member.

After electing a president, council will proceed with its re-organization by electing a secretary, treasurer, solicitor, street commissioner, marketmaster, two policemen and janitor at the engine house.

The new council is expected to re-elect Ross R. Myers as secretary; George Martin as treasurer;
J. A. Tawney as street commissioner and Arthur Hughes as janitor at the engine house. J. Donald Swope, who has served as the borough solicitor for four years, is not expected to be a candidate again.

William P. Menchey, West High street, is said to be proposed by several members of council to take the place of Mr. Tawney, while Thomas J. Hardy is also proposed by the same group to succeed Arthur "Shorty" Hughes.

Police Jobs Unsettled

If a fight develops over appointments it will center about the police and marketmaster. Both officers, Paul B. Shearer and John H. Keller, will be candidates for re-election, but according to reports there are a number of applicants for these positions.

held on Saturday at the bride's

Ohio Highway Official Lauds
Battlefield and State Roads

"It is the most interesting and educational as well as one of the most beautiful historic civil war shrines I have seen," declared Grover C. Snyder, chief engineer, bureau of maintenance for the state of Ohio, after completing a three-hour tour of the Gettysburg battlefield Sunday afternoon.

"It should be the duty of every American to visit this historic battlefield and learn at first hand just what took place here, the sacrifices of those gallant men in Blue and Grey, the stupendous conflict and the hardships endured during those three hectic days in '63," continued the Ohio official. "Every school child should be given an opportunity to come to Gettysburg for the educational advantages derived from a tour over this sacred field."

Mr. Snyder was accompanied by R. H. Smith, assistant engineer and Charles Roberts. The three men were enthusiastic over the detailed account of the three days' engagements here July 1, 2, 3, 1863, as related by a battlefield guide and expressed the desire to return here in the early future for a more prolonged visit.

State Police Seek Leo Klingan
And Accomplices; Latter
Attacks Officer.

After Leo Klingan, 21, of Littlestown, was arrested late Saturday evening on a charge of disorderly conduct and resisting an officer and committed to the Littletown borough lockup, friends of the prisoner sawed off two locks on the village barricade and released the man.

Troopers G. A. Hahn and Russell Knies, of the local sub-station of the state police, were in Littletown and vicinity today, looking for Klingan and his confederates who effected his escape from the lockup.

The trouble began shortly before midnight, Saturday, when Charles F. Keefer, night officer in Littlestown, attempted to arrest Klingan on a charge of disorderly conduct.
According to the officer, Klingan had been drinking and was boisterous.

Attacks Officer

As Officer Keefer attempted to place Klingan under arrest and take him to the borough lockup, the latter is alleged to have struck the officer several times with his fist and kicked him on the legs with his foot.

Officer Keefer then deputized several men, who had gathered while the altercation was in progress, and had Klingan removed to the lockup.
He was secured behind two stout locks.

Officer Keefer said Klingan's escape was effected between 2:30 and 3 o'clock, Sunday morning. The officer said the names of several persons who helped saw through the locks and release the prisoner are known and that other arrests might be expected shortly.

Recordings Show
A Warm December

Temperatures of the last three months of 1931 were all above normal, Dr. Henry Stewart, local weather recorder, said today. In December, temperatures were 5.4
above normal, in November, 9.2
above and in October, 5.8 above.

The warmest day in December was December 12 when the thermometer registered 65 degrees while the coldest day was December 8 when the temperature was 18 degrees.

How the maximum and minimum temperatures of December, 1931, compare with the figures for the preceding five years is shown in the following high and low figures as compiled by Doctor Stewart:

Year	High	Low
1931	65 high; 18 low.
1930	51 high; 7 low.
1929	60 high; 10 low.
1928	56 high; 13 low.
1927	65 high; 12 low.
1926	50 high; 4 low.

Old County Board Lowers
Tax Rate Before Retiring

As a farewell gift to taxpayers of Adams county, the retiring board of commissioners, at their final session this morning, reduced the tax rates by one mill, lopping half a mill from the general rate and the bond tax.
The new rates for 1932 will now be 6 1/2 mills general tax and one-half mill for bond tax.

The lowering of the tax rates was not wholly unexpected. An inkling of the reduction came last week, when the retiring commissioners,
James I. Devine, H. B. Geiselman and D. R. Stoops, announced a surplus of approximately $25,000 in the county treasury. At the same time, the commissioners announced that they had placed $12,000 in the sinking fund last year, that being $10,000 more than the regular annual allotment to that fund.

Cut Meets Approval
The incoming commissioners, Harry A. Parr, H. B. Geiselman and S. Luther Baltzley, were said to have been favorable to the decrease in the county tax rates, several of the members pointing out that the reduction will help the farmers in these times of falling commodity prices.

Except to reduce the tax rates and sign a number of vouchers, the outgoing commissioners transacted no other business at their final session.

The new board re-organized at 1 o'clock this afternoon by electing Parr president; Louis W. Wagaman, clerk; Colonel J. L. Williams, solicitor; James C. Cole, sealer of weights and measures; Dr. H. M.
Hartman, physician at the county jail, and Frank Sheely, janitor at the court house.

Reduce Salaries

The salary of the new clerk was fixed at $1,740, a reduction of $160 from that of Clayton F. Palmer, the retiring clerk. The salary of Sheely, the janitor, was reduced from $75 to $65 a month, and the salaries of Solicitor Williams and Sealer Cole remain at $500 and $1,000 a year, respectively.

The new board will hold its first regular business meeting on Tuesday at 10 o'clock.

ISSUES LAST LICENSE

The last marriage license issued by W. A. Geiselman, retiring clerk of the courts, was granted this morning to Dorr D. Warner, of Nilbe, New York, and Mildred Alice Heslin, of Panama, New York.

COMMISSIONERS
BEGIN SESSIONS
AT 1 O'CLOCK

New Clerk Of Courts,
Register & Recorder, Sheriff, Aides
Take Oath.

POOR DIRECTORS
NAME NEW CLERK

At 12 o'clock noon today, theoretically, at least, sixteen officers stepped into new positions in Adams county's government. As a matter of fact, there was less activity around the court house at noon than there had been during the forenoon when the newly-elected officers were taking their oaths and receiving their commission.

The board of county commissioners, comprising Harry A. Parr, president; H. B. Geiselman and S.
Luther Baltzley, went into session with their solicitor, Colonel J. L.
Williams, at noon.

Up to that time, however, the new commissioners had not yet been sworn into office, and were not prepared to organize. Their organization meeting started shortly after 1 o'clock.

Sheriff Takes Oath

Sheriff John C. Wible, who took over the reins at the jail at noon, and his two deputies, Blaine E.
Bixler and Rufus Weaver, were sworn in at the office of S. L. Allison, prothonotary, during the forenoon. At the same time, Sheriff Wible announced the appointment of Ray Kitzmiller, deputy county treasurer, as time deputy, succeeding W. A. Geiselman, clerk of the courts, who went out of office today.

Prothonotary Allison succeeds himself in office, and Clayton F.
Palmer, clerk to the county commissioners for the past four years, moved up the hall to become clerk of the courts. At noon, however, Mr. Palmer was meeting with the new board of county commissioners, pending their organization.

Robert E. Fisher, Butler township, who today became register and recorder, succeeding C. G. Taugh-nbaugh, was "on the job" before 10 o'clock, while the retiring official was clearing out his desks and removing his private papers.

New Poor Clerk

Directors of the poor and the county auditors were the only boards to re-organize during the forenoon.

The directors of the poor, meeting at the county home, elected William Deatrick, Biglerville, president, succeeding C. E. Lauver; Calvin Smith, Straban township, steward; R. E. Wible, Gettysburg, solicitor; Dr. C. G. Crist, Gettysburg, physician, and Clarence I.
Snyder, Straban township, clerk.

Salaries of the various officials, with the exception of clerk, were continued. Snyder's salary will be $150 a year instead of $300, the salary of A. P. Wagner, New Oxford, the retiring clerk; Smith's salary will be $800 a year; Attorney Wible $175 and $300 for out-door relief, and Doctor Crist's $275. Mr.
Wible succeeds Charles E. Stahlie, Gettysburg attorney-at-law, as solicitor, and Doctor Crist succeeds Dr. Edgar A. Miller as physician.
Smith, who was defeated for director of the poor on the republican ticket last year, will succeed George Patterson as steward. The new steward will not begin his duties until April 1.

Auditors Reorganized

The auditors re-organized by re-electing Hiram H. Thomas, Reading township, as president, and S.
C. Lott, Highland township, as secretary. George W. Topper is the third member of the board. S. S.
Neely, Gettysburg attorney-at-law, was re-named solicitor. The auditors, all of whom were re-elected last fall, will begin auditing the county accounts within a few days.

John P. Butt, district attorney, who was re-elected, said he took

HOOVER SEEKS EARLY ACTION

President Sends Surprise Message To Congress; Urges Speed On Eight Bills.

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—President Hoover in a surprise special message to congress today urged immediate action upon his emergency economic program.

Mr. Hoover declared emphatically the need is "even more evident" than when it was first laid before congress.

Soon after it reached the senate and house, reading of the document was begun.

The president pleaded that there be no partisan action but that there be unity in swift adoption of eight measures previously proposed by him.

"We can and must replace the unjustifiable fear in the country with confidence," the president said.

Enumerating the eight measures "requiring immediate action" he said they were "designed to check the further degeneration in prices and values, to fortify us against continued shocks from world instability and to unshackle the forces of recovery."

Bloodhounds, Airplanes and Posse of Men and Women Hunt Killers

Springfield, Mo., Jan. 4 (AP)—

While the Ozark hills' greatest man hunt was prosecuted by posses, airplanes and bloodhounds in quest of the slayers of six peace officers in a farmyard massacre, police and vigilantes Sunday rounded up six members of the suspected wholesale killers' family, Sunday.

The objects of the widespread search, Harry Young, 27, and his brother, Jennings Young, 29, had

PINCHOT PLEADS FOR RELIEF AID

Testifies Before Senatorial Committee With John L. Lewis.

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—The governor of Pennsylvania and the chief of the United Mine Workers added emphatic pleas for federal aid to the unemployed in testimony today to a senatorial committee.

Governor Pinchot decreed the administration plan for relief by voluntary contributions. Terming it "vicious" he insisted it is "an attempt to get by without increasing taxes and letting the big fellows come into share the load."

John L. Lewis addressed himself especially to the need of miners in both union and the non-union class. He advocated a federal agency to combat "distortion." He estimated 180,000 miners are in dire want in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois.

Pinchot estimated Secretary Mellon has an annual income of $100,000 and said he understood that the secretary of the treasury had contributed $170,000 or less to voluntary relief funds. He himself, he said, gave a quarter of his income.

LOCAL CAGERS PLAY TONIGHT

Fleet-Wing Quintet Engages Undefeated St. Mary's Five In Hotel Annex.

Undefeated in nine straight games, the St. Mary's basketball team of Steelton will invade Gettysburg tonight confident of their ability to conquer the Fleet-Wing quintet. The game will be played in the Hotel Gettysburg annex and will start at 8:30 o'clock.

The visitors are represented by one of the fastest organizations they have had since organizing in 1921. In compiling an undefeated record, some of the best professional teams in central Pennsylvania have been upset by the Steelton tribe.

The local team held a long practice Friday evening when attempts were made to smooth out the rough spots. After a long drill on signals and plays, the Fleet-Wing passers announced their readiness for the stiff opposition that is expected tonight.

Gelbert To Play

Charley Gelbert, star short-stop of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals baseball team, will again be in the local lineup. Gelbert has made quite a hit with the local fans with his style of play and with more practice should develop into one of the aces on the local team.

No change is anticipated in the Fleet-Wing lineup. Pairing off with Gelbert at forward will be Yockey-Bream, with Flynn and Buehler held in reserve. Captain Lou Reilly will be at the pivot post with Hen Bream and Norm Wernick holding down the guard positions.

GANDHI NABBED AND IS JAILED

Uprisings in India Expected As Mahatma Is Imprisoned On Old Law.

By The A. P.

Great Britain struck back at the Indian civil disobedience campaign today, clapped Mahatma Gandhi back into jail, imprisoned Pandit Nehru, his second in command, and prepared to deal vigorously with any further manifestations.

The country remained outwardly calm and it probably will be some days before the Nationalists show their hand. The leaders are lying low, waiting developments.

From London came word that the British government views the Nationalist campaign as a challenge to law and order and intends to deal with it as such.

Bombay, Jan. 4 (Monday) (AP)—Mahatma Gandhi was arrested early today for the second time within a year and a half and Nationalist India once more girded itself for "non-violent" war on Great Britain.

cluded posses in the usually peaceful suburban farm area four miles southwest of here, where they were seen fleeing Sunday.

Officers and civilians combed the countryside in vain, and with night-fall they withdrew from the section within five miles of the farmyard which the two brothers turned into a shambles Monday, resisting arrest of Harry Young on a murder charge.

Oscar Young, another brother, was arrested with his wife Sunday and admitted being at his mother's farm-house prior to the shooting Saturday, but denied he was present during the firing. Because of his previous good record, authorities were inclined to believe his story.

Woman Denies Pair Breakfast

Search for Harry and Jennings Young was intensified when the pair stopped at the home of E. T. Page, Springfield grocer, and demanded breakfast for three from Page's wife, who was at home alone.

She refused to comply and the men disappeared in a thicket behind the house after assuring her they were not "the boys they are looking for." Mrs. Page believed one was armed. His hip pocket bulged. The aroused citizenry joined officers, armed and unarmed, in a frantic hunt over the rolling, wooded vicinity of the Page home.

Hundreds of persons, many of them women carrying infants, followed the posses' movements closely. They boldly advanced over the scoured territory behind the posses, unheeding danger of an attack for a possible opportunity of witnessing gun play.

ARMY OFFICER TAKES OWN LIFE

Woman Companion Directs Officers To Body; Believe He Was Demented.

Gilroy, Cal., Jan. 4 (AP)—With a bullet wound in the head, the body of Lieut. William J. French, U. S. A., on leave from Fort Devos, Massachusetts, was found near his automobile in a field four miles south of here Sunday. A pistol from which a shot was fired was on the running board of the automobile.

Mrs. Gertrude McEnroe, who said her home was at Butte, Montana, directed officers to the scene. She told authorities she left San Francisco with French at 5 a. m. to drive to Los Angeles, and that apparently he had become insane and sought to take her life and his own.

Struck With Pistol

Mrs. McEnroe, who said she had been acquainted with the army officer for several years, asserted she was struck a severe blow on the head. Fearful the officer was demented, she said, she suggested they stop at San Jose. Lieutenant French drove around San Jose and continued on through Gilroy, she related. Meanwhile, she clung to his arm, she explained, to ward off further attack.

Four miles south of Gilroy, she said, French headed his car off the road and directly into an oak tree, caromed off, knocked down a fence and hurtled eighty yards into a field.

Ran To Highway

She ran to the highway, where she stopped a truck and was taken to Gilroy. Directed by Mrs. McEnroe, the officers found Lieutenant French's body.

Mrs. McEnroe said Lieutenant French's wife died two years ago, and that at his invitation she had come to San Francisco from Kansas City to visit him.

Suffering concussion of the brain from a blow on the head, she is confined under the care of a physician at a Gilroy hotel.

THIRD TOWNSHIP SEEKS T. B. TEST

Huntington Qualifies For Tuberculin Cattle Test, Farm Agent Announces.

Huntington, the third township in Adams county, has qualified for the area tuberculin cattle test. M. T. Hartman, farm agent, announced today. More than 90 per cent of the herd owners in that district have signified their willingness to have their cattle tuberculin tested.

Interest in tuberculin testing is spreading, and Farm Agent Hartman today announced meetings to be held in Tyrone and Reading townships later this week. Herds in Menallen and Latimore township have already been tested.

On Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, herd owners in Tyrone township will meet at the Heidersburg school house to hear about tuberculin testing and the following evening farmers of Reading township will meet at the Hampton school house.

"The estimated value of dairy cattle and dairy products in Adams county is $2,450,000 annually and is one of the most important sources of farm income," the county agent said. "Adams county has not kept pace with surrounding counties nor with the state in tuberculin testing of cattle, but the start we have made in this county is one of the most worthy projects the farmers have undertaken."

Inability to locate the basket from close angles cost Gettysburg high school their first league basketball game here on Saturday, York high nosing out the locals 21-18 in a nip and tuck battle.

Practically every goal made by the Maroons was from outside of the 15 foot mark while many chances to score on comparatively short shots were missed.

Trostle started the scoring by converting a foul toss. A pair of goals by Fry and Taylor quickly placed York in the lead. Smith came back with a charity toss. Shearer evened the count with a long shot but Hassler and Hamme landed short shots to give the visitors an 8-4 lead at the quarter.

Dick Smith went on a scoring spree in the second period and gave the Maroons a temporary lead. Cutting the cords for three successive goals, Smith put the locals into a 10-8 lead. Fry tied the count with a goal and then Rupp sent Gettysburg into the lead but Hassler deadlocked the score at 12 all at half time.

Rupp opened the final half with a beautiful over-head stab for two points. Coach Weimer's tribe shot into the lead on a pair of goals by Taylor and Hassler and foul shots by Heiges and Taylor. The period ended with York leading, 18-14.

The fourth period started with Hamme caging a foul toss. Several minutes slipped by without any scoring and then Weldy Plank landed a twin-pointed from the side. A few seconds later he cut the cords from near the center of the floor. With but two minutes to go Heiges caked a goal and with a three-point advantage the York tribe successfully "froze" the ball despite the desperate efforts of the Maroonmen to do some scoring.

Maroons Show Promise

In spite of the defeat the Maroons displayed evidence of increasing power and if they had been able to land their short shots would undoubtedly have won. York's passers gave a good exhibition and with three veterans left over from last year, should develop into a fast stepping team.

In the preliminary game the Maroon and White scrubs nosed out the York reserves in a thrilling battle, 25-24. An extra period was necessary to decide the issue as the score stood 22 all at the close of the game. The Maroon reserves gave quite an exhibition with their long and sensational shooting.

THE YEAR'S BIG NEWS IN PICTURES

THESE EVENTS THRILLED YOU IN 1931

WHAT were the news events that you followed most eagerly in 1931? These Associated Press photographs present a pictorial review of some of the big news stories of the year reported in The Gettysburg Times. There were thrills, mysteries, battles, heroism, scientific achievements, disasters and death.

POST and Gatty proved the smallness of our world when they flew around the globe in less than nine days, and Prof. Auguste Piccard demonstrated the bigness of the universe when he ascended ten miles into the stratosphere. War clouds threatened when the Japanese occupied Manchuria; an ancient dynasty fell in Spain; disaster struck Managua; Bryan Untiedt proved himself a hero in howling blizzard in Colorado; the deaths of Starr Faithfull and Benjamin Collings provided mysteries.

WAR CLOUDS DARKEN ORIENT—World peace was threatened late in 1931 when Japan moved into Manchuria to protect her railway interests. Bitter fighting with Chinese forces followed as Japanese troops occupied much of Manchuria. Above: Japanese artillery in action along the Nonni river. Below: Japanese unload field guns at Chingchun. Right: A Japanese trooper raises his country's flag after a victory.

SNATCHED FROM AN ARCTIC DEATH—Survivors of the Arctic motion picture expedition ship, Viking, rescued after floating several days on a little ice floe with pieces of the wreckage from the blast-torn ship provide one of the most thrilling stories of 1931. Picture was taken just before the rescue. One of the trio later died of pneumonia.

THEY PUT A TUCK IN THE GLOBE—The world became a bit smaller in 1931. The thrilling flight of Willy Post and Harold Gatty around the globe in less than nine days proved it and incidentally was followed eagerly by millions of newspaper readers the world over.

PRESIDENT'S HONORED GUEST—Bryan Untiedt, 13, boy hero of the Colorado bus tragedy, received the congratulations of the president as a guest of the Hoovers at the white house. He was one of 1931's outstanding heroes.

PIONEERING IN THE STRATOSPHERE—Piercing the upper regions of the air in the interest of science, Prof. Auguste Piccard and his companion attained a height never reached before in a balloon trip 10 miles up into the stratosphere. Above: Piccard (right) and his assistants preparing for the take-off at Augsburg, Germany. Below: An air view of the deflated bag of the balloon after it landed on a glacier in the Austrian Alps.

VICTIM OF UNSOLVED MURDER—An investigation that reached international proportions never found an answer for the body was washed up on a Long Island beach. She was the daughter of a New York chemist.

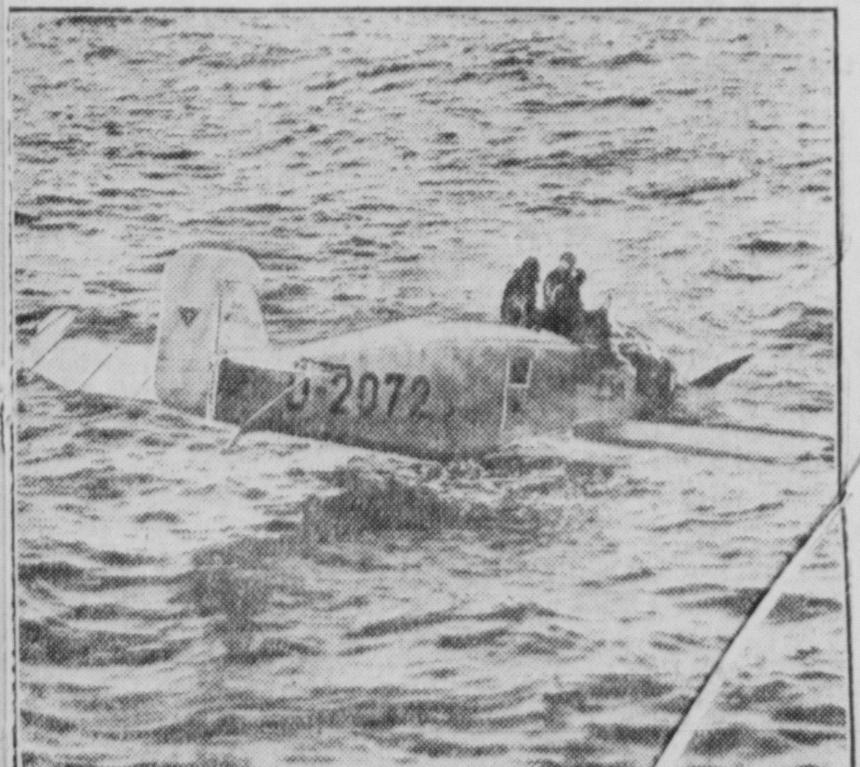

TRUNK MURDER SOLVED—Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, arrested in Los Angeles, told police she killed two women friends in Phoenix, Arizona, and shipped their bodies to Los Angeles in trunks. The story of the slayings attracted widespread interest.

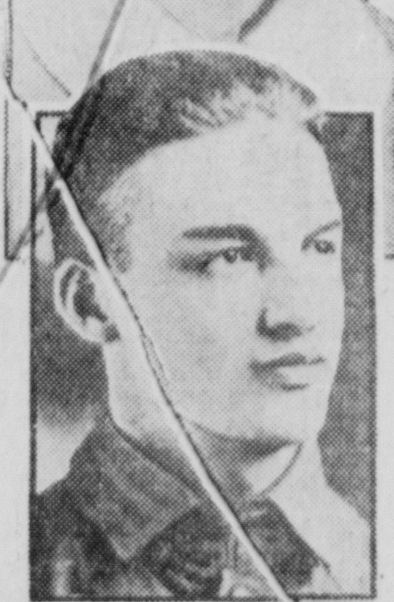

THE GOVERNMENT STRIKES AT CRIME—After many of his henchmen were placed behind prison bars, Chicago's scar-faced ruler of gangdom, Alphonse Capone, was found guilty of income tax evasion and sentenced to five years in a federal penitentiary. He is shown (wearing white hat) leaving a Chicago court during his trial.

EARTHQUAKE HORROR IN NICARAGUA—One of the year's biggest disasters was the violent earthquake in Nicaragua which practically destroyed Managua, the capital, killing an estimated 2000 people. Smoldering ruins are shown here as a fit

TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIERS RESCUED AT SEA—Their food gone and nearly exhausted, three European fliers were rescued off the coast of Newfoundland after floating 158 hours on the fuselage of their disabled trans-Atlantic plane, Esa. The three, Willy Rody, Christian Johannsen and Fernando Costa Viera, were attempting a flight from Portugal to the United States. Picture shows the men floating on their wrecked plane as the rescue ship, Belmoira, approached.

PIRATES KILL—The question "Who killed Benjamin Collings and why?" never has been answered. The body of the Stamford, Connecticut, yachtsman, bound hand and foot, was washed up on the shore. Clues supported his wife's story that two midnight invaders boarded their yacht on Long Island sound and abducted her after throwing her husband overboard.

BRITAIN'S POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC CRISIS—Great Britain's election and her emergency measures resulting in the dropping of the gold standard were among the outstanding European news developments of the year. Despite the defeat of the labor party, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald (right) was swept back into power at the head of a new national government. He is shown at the height of his campaign. At the left is the crowd that gathered after the emergency closing of the stock exchange and the publication of the decree dropping the gold standard.

Out of the Past happenings of Days Gone by as Chronicled in The Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times, the Files Reveal

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Several alarms of fire have taken place in our borough during the last two weeks, and in one instance, some valuable property of T. Stevens, Esq., &c., narrowly escaped destruction. These repeated alarms have induced a number of our property holders to effect insurance, we understand; and an agent of the Pennsylvania Fire insurance company is expected here today to attend to the matter.

Among the petitions presented in the senate December 16, was one by Mr. Blythe from citizens of Adams county praying for the passage of a law incorporating a company, to make a railroad from the borough of Gettysburg, to the Maryland state line, in the direction of the head waters of the Monocacy.

[Communicated.] County Convention.—At a respectable meeting of the delegates from the different townships of Adams county, convened at the court house in the borough of Gettysburg on Monday, the 19th ult., Conrad Snyder was appointed chairman and Daniel M. Smyser secretary. The object of the convention being stated, it was Resolved: That James Renshaw, Allen Robinette and James M. Sherry, Esqs., be and they are hereby appointed delegates to the state convention to be held on the 22nd of February next, at Harrisburg, to nominate a suitable person for governor of Pennsylvania—and also electors of president and vice president of the United States.

Read The Bible With Us Daily

O Lord, rebuke me not in thy wrath: neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure.

For thine arrows stick fast in me, and thy hand presseth me sore.

There is no soundness in my flesh because of thine anger; neither is there any rest in my bones because of thy sin.

For mine iniquities are gone over mine head: as a heavy burden they are too heavy for me.

My wounds stink and are corrupt because of my foolishness.

I am troubled: I am bowed down greatly: I go mourning all the day long.

For my loins are filled with a loathsome disease: and there is no soundness in my flesh.

I am feeble and sore broken: I have roared by reason of the disquietness of my heart.

Lord, all my desire is before thee; and my groaning is not hid from thee.

My heart panteth, my strength faileth me: as for the light of mine eyes, it also is gone from me.

My lovers and my friends stand aloof from me; and my kinsmen stand afar off.

They also that seek after my life lay snares for me; and they that seek my hurt speak mischievous things, and imagine deceits all the day long.

But I, as a deaf man, heard not; and I was as a dumb man that openeth not his mouth.

Thus I was as a man that heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reprofs.

For in thee, O Lord, do I hope: thou wilt hear, O Lord my God.

For I said, Hear me, lest otherwise they should rejoice over me; when my foot slippeth, they magnify themselves against me.

For I am ready to halt, and my sorrow is continually before me.

For I will declare mine iniquity: I will be sorry for my sin.

But mine enemies are fiercely, and they are strong: and they that hate me wrongfully are multiplied.

They also that render evil for good are mine adversaries: because I follow the thing that good is.

Forsake me not, O Lord: O my God, be not far from me.

Make haste to help me, O Lord my salvation.—Psalm 38.

HISTORY OF ADAMS COUNTY

A Chronological Review Of Things That Have Gone Before, And The Trials And Tribulations Of Our Ancestors, As Published Serially For The Benefit Of Gettysburg Times' Readers.

Churches

Presbyterian church (the Rev. J. K. Demarest, pastor), of Gettysburg, is closely identified with the history of the people of this county from its earliest settlement. The first building was erected in the vicinity of Black's graveyard where there was a settlement of the Dutch Reformed people in 1738. The church was probably organized in 1740; the "meeting-house" was built about 1747. It was known as the Great Conowago and Marsh creek church. The Rev. Caven was "stated supply" in 1740. In 1741 the congregation petitioned to be rid of their preacher, because "when Mr. Caven is abroad a bad story invariably comes back after him." For some years this people worshipped in private houses or under "God's first temples." Andrew Bay was long supposed to have been the first resident pastor, but this was an error, probably from the split in the church of the "Old Side" and "New Side." The Rev. Joseph Tate was the first ministerial call to Great Conowago, in 1748, then Robert McMordie; in 1767 the Rev. James Long, then Joseph Rhea, Samuel Kennedy. The latter was doubted by the authorities as to his opinions, and he was refused to the church. The Presbytery said he was "tinctured with New Light sentiments." Poor Kennedy was tried for being an Irishman, in reality, but they called it "laying too much stress on external and internal holiness." The ghostly trial was had. The most wonderful thing about it now is the synopsis of the testimony as it is furnished by the records, of the persons who had heard him preach, and would, under oath, give the substance of his remarks and arguments, on the most wonderful and dryest dogmas months after they had sat in the cheerless church and heard them. They could repeat the text and give a synopsis of his so-called arguments under each of the many headings. This trial and testimony is a flood of light upon the religious ideas, subjects and manners of the times. Among the witnesses called were Capt. McPherson, Samuel McConaughy, Quintin Armstrong.

Pastors of the Church

In 1772 the Rev. Robert Huey was asked for by the congregation. The Presbytery, because he was an Irishman, subjected him to the most rigid examination on "the more important articles of the Christian religion, wherein the Calvinists and Armenians differ"; and he did not pass the ordeal. The Rev. John Black was in charge in 1775. He was the ablest man probably in charge of this church, continued many years, and was greatly respected. He replaced the old log church with the large stone one in 1780. In 1781 the Presbytery met in this then magnificent building. A great incident came before this body. Two young ladies of the congregation were at outs. The great difficulty in the case was they were both "most highly connected," each claiming kinship with either preacher. In fact they were so high in their family connection and influence that the session had no jurisdiction, and therefore it came directly to the Presbytery. It was in the end the common female trouble of tea tattling. The young lady was found guilty of an unruly tongue and was ordered up to receive a public reprimand. In 1741 a minister was tried by the Presbytery for drunkenness. He was acquitted, and the record says: "We cannot find cause to judge Mr. Lyon guilty of anything like excess in drinking." But inasmuch as his behavior had so many circumstances and symptoms of drunkenness, and inasmuch as he did not make any apology or allege it proceeded from sickness, we judge that he is censurable, and yet, as we apprehend that the small amount of liquor which Mr. Lyon might have drunk might produce the above effect after his coming in out of the extreme cold into a warm house near the fire, we do not find sufficient cause to condemn him for drunkenness." At the next meeting of the Presbytery this same Rev. Mr. Lyon was tried, condemned and convicted "for whistling on the Sabbath, conduct indicating vacuity of thought and a disposition at variance with the proper spirit of the Lord's day."

Temperance Society Introduced

The good and reverend Black introduced the first temperance society in this part of the world. It was very mild, not prohibiting the use of liquor, but simply to stop excessive drunkenness. He only could induce three of his congregation to sign, and the end soon came in Mr. Black being deposed from his church for his pains.

In 1813 it was determined to sell the church and remove to Gettysburg. Dr. McCannagh, long in charge of the church, an eminent divine and educator, resigned in 1832 to take the presidency of Washington college, which place he ably filled until October, 1849. He died January 29, 1852. A church was built in Gettysburg, and here the congregation has worshipped since. In 1840 the new and present church was completed.

"Who in the world is that?" John exclaimed. Some one was coming toward them.

"It's certainly not Paul Revere," Peggy answered. "We were to have seen him when he was a boy, but that is a man and he has a dog with him."

"Hello, John and Peggy," shouted the man. "You don't know me, but I know both of you."

"I'm the old Magic Maker and I'm the one who gave the supply of magic to your friend, the Little Black Clock. He thought it would be jolly if you could meet me."

"My name is 'Surprises,' and my dog's name is Wag-Wag-Wag. That's because he never wags his tail less than three times, and if he wags it four times I call him Wag-Wag-Wag-Wag."

"You were promised a sight of Paul Revere as a boy and I'm going to take you along with me."

They walked beside the Magic Maker and his dog. He was very tall, with inky black hair and black eyes that John felt could be seen even if it happened to be as dark as night.

The Magic Maker took them to a place where they could sit without being noticed, and they heard Paul Revere's family calling out: "The big tea kettle needs mending. P-a-u-l, do come and fix it."

"He is going to make beautiful silver tea sets and bowls and trays and frames. Some day when you visit museums you might find out if they have anything that was made by Paul Revere, for he turned out to be one of the great silver-

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

Author of "You Can," "Us," "Just Among Friends"

MEMORABLE SMILES

WHEN the brain engineers a smile it performs one of its greatest functions. For smiles just don't happen—they appear only on order.

Something has to happen in the heart and the mind to bring forth a smile. There are those who rarely smile. I have read that Oscar Wilde was one whose smile was almost an event, yet when it appeared it was a smile worth noting. It is said that the smile of Ellen Terry was most beautiful, and carried with it the rarest charm.

My own mother's smile is what I remember most vividly. It was such a gentle smile, with the utmost tenderness and beauty engaging it. I am sure it will never fade from my memory.

I never want to pass final judgment upon anyone until I have seen his smile. Something is always concealed there. The honest smile reveals so much—as though the invisible curtains of character had been drawn—to let the light out into the world.

Toss a smile at the youngest child—and immediately there is understanding, and the child's smile is returned.

People can't stay very angry—if they sprinkle a few smiles into their talk. Often a smile has become memorable just because of the happiness it has brought about.

I have seen many a famous smile. Those of Roosevelt, Wilson, Taft, Edison, Marshall Foch, Bryan, Al Smith, Edward Everett Hale—to name but a few that I have seen and that have fascinated me over the years. But the smiles of those nearest and dearest to us always have for us the greatest charm and beauty. They linger about us, bequeathing to us a mystic understanding.

Many years ago a young woman singer came upon the stage of a theatre I was attending and sang some simple songs. She took the audience by storm. But it wasn't the song, nor the voice—but the smile that she wrapped about that song and voice. I have long forgotten the name of the singer and the words of the songs—but that smile remains.

Often it takes great courage to smile—but it always inspires courage in turn within all who touch its magic area.

CURE FOR THE SULKS

Sometimes when I don't play
The way she wants me to Then Florence May will say:
"All right! I'm mad with you!"
And then she'll sulk and pout
An' next day she pretends
When I come walkin' out
That we're not bein' friends.
But when I get a dime
For lollypops or gum
Or if it's cookie time
An' Mary's given me some
An' I go out to play

Just like I've done before,
Then Florence May will say:
"I'm not mad any more."

It's rather queer to me
But mother says it's how Things used to be when she Was young as I am now.
Her playmate used to cry,
"I'm mad at you," an' then Candy or cake or pie
Would make them friends again.

smiths of all time," the Magic Maker told them.

John and Peggy knew that every first of January from this year on they would think of Paul Revere and his birthday.

NERVOUS INSTABILITY

Many a mother and father find it difficult to understand why the baby's doctor so strongly insists upon regularity in the simple physical handling of the infant.

The fact, however, is that the doctor's insistence is not pointless. The child must learn to behave inwardly as well as outwardly, "breaking in" its own physical machine for smooth and harmonious operation.

While the child is born with innate capacities to feed, excrete, and sleep, these capacities are crude and untrained.

The more serious forms of nervous instability may cause the child to suffer convulsions upon the least provocation.

Under proper handling the child will overcome this handicap, and in later years withstand provoking irritations without going into nervous spasms.

In a less serious form nervous instability may be seen in the child's irregular breathing, and particularly in its frequent attacks of hiccup, or spasms of the diaphragm.

The rate and rhythm of the child's circulatory system are also irregular.

Not infrequently, too, its excretory functions are so irregular as to cause alarm.

There may be constipation without apparent reason and suppression or retention of the urine.

The digestive system and its functions are also subject to disturbances in movement and coordination.

Temporary spasms of the pylorus, the opening of the stomach into the intestine, and the irregular peristaltic movement of the intestinal tract give rise to vomiting, pain, and in a number of instances, to a hypertrophy or over-development of the stomach.

When properly trained, the child acquires a rhythm of function which does away with these irregularities.

BOY OF 16 IS HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

Killing Of Another Follows Dispute Between Two Juvenile Gangs.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Jan. 4 (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Lawrence MacDonald was charged with murder Friday as the result of what authorities termed a juvenile gang killing.

MacDonald was charged with shooting to death Joseph Kurlovick, 16, last Thursday in a dispute between two gangs of boys over burning some bullrushes.

Police were told that Kurlovick and some friends were burning the bullrushes when MacDonald came up and put out the fire. Kurlovick immediately started the fire again. MacDonald left and returned with four boys. He pulled a sawed-off rifle from beneath his coat and fired twice at Kurlovick, killing him instantly, police said.

MacDonald was held in jail.

DR. DERCUM, IN HIS WILL, HAS RECORDS DESTROYED

Philadelphia, Jan. 4 (AP)—Carrying out the highest ideals of the ethics of his profession, Dr. Francis X. Dercum, noted neurologist of this city, in his will ordered destroyed the private case records of his patients, including those of President Woodrow Wilson.

Dr. Dercum, who died last April, had among his patients many notable persons from various parts of the world. He considered the records of so confidential a nature that they should never be permitted to be seen even by other physicians, his widow explained.

He was among specialists called into consultation during the president's last illness.

Dr. Dercum's will became public Friday. His widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Conly Dercum, had the provisions for destruction of the private records carried out.

NEW HIGHWAY COMPLETED

Last Link In Scenic Road In Carolinas Opened.

Caesar's Head, S. C., Jan. 4 (AP)—The new $1,000,000 all-paved scenic highway between Greenville and Brevard, N. C., was hailed Friday by Dr. Frank Pool, of Furman University, as a symbol of the "new day" in the progress and achievement of the Carolinas.

Dr. Pool was the speaker at a New Year's turkey dinner here celebrating the completion of the last link of this highway which winds through the mountains of the two states.

USE OF MEAT INCREASES

Consumption Of Lamb In 1931 Sets Record.

Chicago, Jan. 4 (AP)—Consumption of meat increased slightly in the United States last year, William Whitfield Woods, president of an Institute of American meat packers, said Friday.

More lamb was eaten last year even before he said. There was little change reported in consumption of beef and veal, while use of pork was slightly larger and "hard ten per cent larger than in 1930."

About New York

By William Gaines

New York—Whatever you think about the severe judgments of Dr. Charles G. Shaw, New York university professor, you must admit he makes them heard far and wide.

When he described whistlers as morons, echoes came from across the seas. When he said bridge and other card games did not develop a desirable sort of brain skill, his utterance fell upon countless ears.

Thus having demonstrated the carrying quality of his voice when he emits his prejudices (perhaps he would insist they are scientific observations), I wish the good professor would speak his mind on New York's assortment of itch-provokers. Some of them are:

Theater check room attendants who trail you impudently, insisting upon taking your coat and hat.

Cheapskate "outlaws" whose notion of impressive defiance is to smoke in crowded subway cars, in spite of warning signs.

Youthful racketeers who hop on running boards, open automobile doors and stand poised for a tip for unwanted service.

First nighters whose gab and ill-timed guffaws are designed to divert attention from the stage to their own painful presence.

Stage comedians who spend all their time in vaudeville talking about themselves.

Cops who, protected by their uniform of authority, snatch at every small opportunity to bawl some body out in unwarranted fashion.

Taxi drivers who snarl instead of apologizing after their cabs brush pedestrians who are also trying to get some place.

Waiters who sulk at ten per cent tip.

Various professional people of unsubstantial reputation who scoff viciously at rising talent.

And the frustrated folk of no reputation who join in the anvil

JUDGE DENIES BIAS IN CASE

Johnson Appeal For Change Of Venue Is Argued Against.

Middleburg, Jan. 4.—Judge Miles I. Potter, of the Union-Snyder county district, and William K. Miller, district attorney of Snyder county, filed their answers Thursday to the rule returnable in the supreme court in Philadelphia Monday to show cause why the case against Miller A. Johnson and his six codefendants for alleged irregularities in the republican primaries in September in Snyder county should not be reviewed by that higher tribunal and the prayer for a change of venue granted.

Johnson is the son of Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson, of Lewisburg, and as the republican nominee for judge in the normally five-to-one republican district of Union and Snyder counties was overwhelmingly defeated at the November by Curtis C. Leshe, of Lewisburg, democratic nominee.

Action Stayed

Johnson and his codefendants were held in bail for trial at the December term of court here, but the action was stayed when the supreme court granted their petition to intervene.

Judge Potter and District Attorney Miller retire from office Monday. Each denies Johnson's declaration that a trial in Snyder county would be biased and each asks the supreme court to discharge the rule at the cost of the petitioner.

Asked Inquiry

Harry A. Corryell, of Selinsgrove, who ran second in the September primaries, presented a petition to Judge Thomas F. Bailey, of Huntingdon, specially presiding at the October term of court, asking for a grand jury investigation into Johnson's alleged illegal use of money. Judge Bailey ordered the grand jury to investigate. As a direct result of their report, the Rev. A. S. Bierly, of Selinsgrove, caused Johnson and his codefendants to be arraigned before Justice of the Peace C. Arthur Miller, of Penn township, for irregular practices in the primary. They waived a hearing and filed bonds for appearance in December court. The justice of the peace is a brother of District Attorney Miller.

A day before the supreme court intervened the transcript of Justice of the Peace Miller, the complaint of Mr. Bierly and arrest warrants were stolen from the office of Prothonotary Ira Lose, and some time before that a page of the notes of testimony as kept by Henry Aumiller, secretary of the grand jury, which Judge Bailey ordered filed as matters of public record, was stolen.

ROSE TOURNAMENT HELD

San Marino Wins Pasadena Prize As 1,000,000 Cheer.

Pasadena, Cal., Jan. 4 (AP)—A pageant of blossoms, cheered by 1,000,000 persons, trailed through Pasadena Friday in the annual Tournament of Roses.

In winning the grand sweepstakes, the city of San Marino, whose floral float was dedicated to Australia, supplanted the city of Glendale as winner of the parade. Glendale was placed first in the theme division. Clear skies and a bright sun enhanced the spectacle.

Fewer, Less Severe Colds

With "Colds Control" Plan

Discovery By Makers of Vick VapoRub Mawes Possible Better "Control-of-Colds" In The Home.

HIGH COSTS REDUCED

Relief from much of the burden imposed by colds is now available in every home. The Vicks Plan for better "Control-of-Colds" lessens the number, the severity and the duration of colds. It reduces the family's "Colds-Tax" in money, loss of time and health.

A New Vick Discovery.

This Plan has been perfected by the makers of Vicks VapoRub—made possible by Vicks Nose & Throat Drops. Based on a new idea for "preventing" colds, this new Vick formula is an ideal companion to VapoRub, the modern way of "treating" colds. Used together, they aid and supplement each other in the Vick Plan for better "Control-of-Colds," which follows:

1.—Before a Cold Starts.

Wash yourself whenever you have been exposed to anything that you know is apt to give you a cold, such as—

Contact with others having fresh colds—crows, stuffy, ill-ventilated rooms, public places—a night on a Pullman or a dirty automobile ride—sudden changes in temperature—inhaling smoke, dust, gases—excess smoking or drinking, which over-eat body resistance—after a hard day when you are over-tired.

Then—if you feel that stuffy,

County Scout News

The Adams county Lone Scout tribe held its quarterly meeting Saturday, January 2, in the Hotel Gettysburg annex. This meeting called together all the patrols and members of the Lone Scout tribes in the county.

Fred Tyson, scout master, called the meeting to order and then turned it over to the chief, Clyde Sowers, who conducted the meeting.

Reports of all the members were given as to names, ranks obtained, the tests passed in the preceding rank and the tests to be passed.

Ray Zaner, chief scout executive of the York-Adams area, gave demonstrations in knot tying. Each knot was discussed, illustrated and its origin given. Mr. Zaner also gave illustrations and suggestions in code signals with flags. He explained the use of the neckerchief as a bandage and now applied. In closing Mr. Zaner gave a brief talk on scouting—the work the scouts have been doing and are doing for the country in general.

Plans of a program to be given at the next meeting of the Lone Scout tribe, which will be held in Biglerville in February, were then made. Parents and adult teachers will be invited to this meeting. This was followed by a scout yell, led by Guy Beamer. A game called "Hot Hands" was led by Mr. Zaner.

Short talks were given by Mr. Biggs, scout master of the colored troop of Gettysburg, and Oscar Benson, national director of rural scouting. Mr. Benson spoke of the plans of the tribe at the Farm show at Harrisburg, January 18 to 23. Exhibitions of the scout work are to be given January 21 and 22. Mr. Benson also announced that the members of the tribe who participated in the nutting pilgrimage held near Gettysburg last fall could obtain five walnut tree plantings from the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., on request.

TREES TURN LOWLY ISLE INTO PACIFIC LANDFALL

Honolulu (AP)—The little island of Lisianski, 1,100 miles west of here, probably will be wooded within a few years, as the crew of the coast survey ship Pioneer recently planted 50 ironwood trees there.

The island is covered with grass, but its highest point is only 20 feet above the sea and it cannot be seen from ships more than a mile away.

Captain O. W. Swanson, of the Pioneer, said if the trees grow the isle will be visible before ships are in danger of crashing on its reefs.
